August 2016

Greetings in the precious name of Christ Jesus the Lord. We hope that this report finds each one doing well.

Towards the end of this month, Cyd and I were blessed with safe travel back to Australia, and are thankful and happy to be home. As is usual with the long traveling hours, we are both experiencing tiredness and jet lag and expect that it will take a little while to feel settled in again. We are also very thankful that the Lord has given us a home where we can find shelter and rest, as well as a place in which to serve Him here in Western Australia.

This past month we were able to see Cyd's immune specialist and are thankful for all that he does to monitor her health and maintain her treatment protocol.

It was a blessing to be able to resume worship services the first Sunday we were back and to enjoy the fellowship of the Capistrano family once again. It was also a special joy to have some returning visitors attend the services, for which we thank the Lord.

Your prayers for Bro. Norman Malu and the church in Port Moresby in Papua New Guinea are much appreciated as he will soon be traveling to the Highlands once again to minister among the churches there.

Thank you for your continued love, prayers, encouragement, and support for the Lord's work in Australia and Papua New Guinea.

Love in Christ, Frank James

A Weather-Beaten Package –

It was a surprise when we arrived home from the airport to see a small package sitting directly in front of our front door. Frank paid to have our mail held, so we wondered if it had been delivered the day he left to go to the USA. It was quite weather-beaten, but what surprised us is that no one had stolen it in the weeks that he was away. It confirmed to us that we live in a fairly safe neighborhood as it was in full view of anyone passing by. But more importantly we could see God's grace in keeping our house and belongings safe. Underneath the box was a Census packet. While away, we also had a house inspection. No one bothered the box or the Census information. Maybe it looked like the box was there deliberately as a paper weight to hold down the Census packet. ☺
