June 2016

Greetings once again in the precious name of Jesus Christ the Lord. We trust that this report finds each one well.

The work here in Perth continues to go forward with the propagation of the Gospel in some of the subdivisions that I have not formerly been able to visit. We are thankful for some inquiries, as well as for several opportunities to talk to people along the way. Our regular services also are going well, although we have not seen any visitors this month. Nevertheless, we feel blessed and privileged for each opportunity to worship, and thankful for the Lord's blessings upon us.

Cyd was also blessed with safe travel back to the USA for her yearly appointment with her specialist. However, due to illness on her doctor's part, it became necessary for the office to schedule Cyd's appointment for the first week in August, which was later than anticipated. In the meantime, we are thankful that she is having the opportunity to visit with our family in New Mexico. She will be returning to Australia shortly after her appointment and necessary preparations are completed.

Our sincere thanks for your continued love, prayers, encouragement, and support for the Lord's work in Australia and Papua New Guinea.

Love in Christ, Frank James

Little Things in Life:

On the way back to the USA, there was a group of mentally-challenged men on my flight. I was seated next to them as we waited to board. Their caretakers went to get them something to drink. I was seated across from one man who was waiting patiently. When a lady came and handed him his cappuccino, he got the hugest smile on his face and shook his head, yes. Seeing him so happy over something so small was humbling. I realized how much I take for granted and prayed that I could be more like him. Re: Being excited and thankful for each thing (great or small) that the Lord provides. I have thought about him and the others a lot since then. It seems that when we least expect it, the Lord reminds us of His teachings and to be more thankful for "all" things each and every day.

A friend in Christ, Cyd James
